A Wounded Savior for a Wounded People

By Pastor Christopher Martin

“He was wounded for our transgressions; He was crushed for our iniquities; upon Him was the chastisement that brought us peace, and with His stripes we are healed.”-Isaiah 53:5

In my first call in southwestern Iowa, one of my parishioners was a nurse who specialized in wound care. She would often visit people in their homes who were dealing with surgical wounds, wounds caused by injuries or accidents, or wounds that were sometimes caused by an illness. Regardless of the cause, one thing these wounds all had in common, and what made her job so important was this: if her patients did not properly take care of their wounds, no matter how small they may seem, they could very easily spiral out of control and become bigger problems down the road. If you wanted to heal from them, it took time, and it took care.

Many of you have dealt with some type of physical wound during your life. But, the reality is, many of the wounds we often carry with us are not just physical wounds, are they? We also deal with spiritual wounds and emotional wounds. Some of these wounds that we carry with us are known to other people. Some of them are wounds that we carry with us that are deep within that nobody knows about. The reality is, if we don't deal with them, they can very easily fester and begin to infect our lives in very negative ways. We need Someone to help us heal these wounds, and make us whole once again. Indeed, because of sin, we are a wounded people.

Lent reminds us of something important. Yes, it is a season in which we “get real” about the sin that is in our lives and the wounds that it has left in its path, whether its wounds that we carry, or yes, wounds that we have inflicted upon others by our words, our choices, and our actions, whether we were aware of them or not. But, Lent also reminds us of something else: God has done something about all of this. He has put flesh and blood upon His Son, Jesus Christ, to heal our wounds. Indeed, during Lent, we realize that Jesus is a Wounded Savior for a Wounded People!

This year during our Midweek Lenten worship services, our theme for our Wednesday services this year will be "The Wounds of Christ", as we walk through Matthew's passion account and discuss some of the wounds that our Savior, Jesus, endured during His passion and death. Each week, we will look at one of the physical, mental, or spiritual wounds that Jesus suffered for us, and learn how through Christ alone, we find hope and healing for the woundedness we often carry with us in life.

Elsewhere in this newsletter, you will find a schedule with our themes for each week of this series, which will begin with Ash Wednesday, March 2nd, taking us through Holy Week, and conclude with Easter on Sunday, April 17th. This is a perfect opportunity for you to take the initiative this year and invite someone who you haven't seen in church for some time, or someone who doesn't have a church home, to join you for these quieter services as we make this journey together. I look forward to seeing many of you worship with us during this Lenten season. May it be a blessing as we recognize the wounds that sin has brought into our lives, and the healing we find in our Savior, Jesus!

Journeying Through Grief

The Congregational Care & Outreach Committee sends out a series of booklets called, "Journeying through Grief" to members who have lost a loved one or to family members of a member of Hope who has passed away. The first booklet, "A Time to Grieve", is sent about 3 weeks after the death. "Experiencing Grief" is sent about 3 months after the death. "Finding Hope and Healing" and "Rebuilding and Remembering" are sent at 6 months and 11 months after the death. The books walk the grieving person through the various thoughts and feelings that commonly occur during the grief journey while, at the same time, stressing that everyone experiences grief differently.

If you know of anyone in our congregation who has lost a loved one, please contact the church office or a member of the committee so we don't miss reaching out to someone who would benefit from this ministry.

FOOD PANTRY

The Hope Lutheran Food Pantry serves those in need throughout Rusk County. The Pantry is open Mondays 1:00-3:00pm and Fridays 9:30-11:30am.
